

Texas Wheat Varieties Planted for 2018

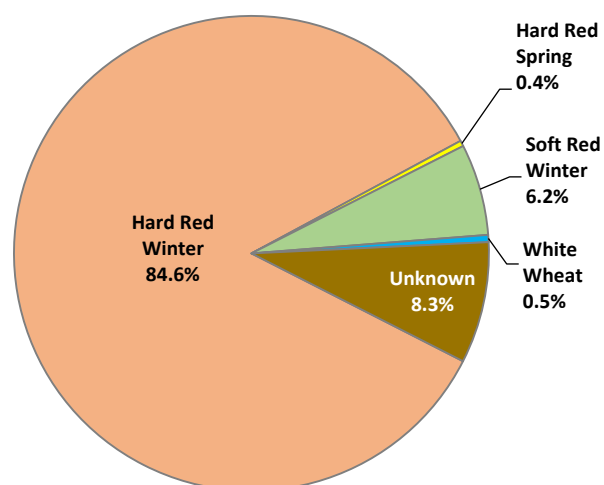

The USDA/NASS Southern Plains Regional Field Office conducted a survey of Texas wheat producers in December 2017 through January 2018. Producers were asked to report wheat acres planted and to be planted by variety for the 2018 crop year. The survey was overseen by Texas A&M AgriLife Extension and funded by the Texas Wheat Producers Board, the Texas Foundation Seed Service, and the Texas Seed Trade Association. Survey results are provided in the following tables, with percent of acres planted for the 2018 crop year by variety and broken out by Texas AgriLife Extension Wheat Region. Data provided by Texas wheat producers is the foundation of this report. The Southern Plains Regional Field Office sincerely thanks all producers who cooperated in this important survey.

TAM 111, while remaining the top variety producers have planted or will plant for the 2018 crop, accounted for 8.9 percent of the State's 2018 planted wheat acres, down from 13.7 percent in 2017. Gallagher, climbing two spots, ranked second, accounting for 5.8 percent of acres planted for 2018, compared with 2.8 percent last year. TAM 114 moved into the top ten, ranking third with 3.9 percent of the State's acreage compared with 2.0 percent in 2017. TAM 112, with 3.4 percent moved down two spots to fourth from second last year. TAM 105, with 2.7 percent of the State's acreage moved up five to fifth for 2018. TAM 113 accounts for 2.4 percent of the 2018 acreage, down three positions to sixth. Winterhawk moved up significantly to seventh from twenty-third last year, with 2.4 percent of the State acreage. WB Cedar, with 1.7 percent of the acreage moved down to eight place from fifth last year. TAM 204 ranked ninth with 1.6 percent of the acreage up four places from last year. SY Razor, with 1.3 percent of the acreage jumped six positions to round out the top ten varieties.
